

ACP Presents: Finding Purpose at the Patient's Bedside & Beyond with HCA

On May 11th, ACP was joined by HCA Healthcare for an inside look at the company's culture and hiring strategies. Our Panelists were Jennifer Beecham Trauma Program Director, TriStar StoneCrest Medical Center | HCA, Curtis Peirce Operations and Service Line Director at Parallon | HCA Healthcare, and Jon Snider, program manager of military affairs at HCA. They discussed transition tips, company culture and how to tackle exploring the job market. They even dedicated a segment of the webinar to Military Spouses and how they can apply to their remote positions and contribute to the company's diversity and inclusion efforts. These were the links provided during the webinar.

KEY JOB SEARCH ADVICE WHILE LOOKING INTO

1.

If you are 6 months out until your transition, give yourself the first month to learn about different opportunities and their teams. The idea is that you are interviewing the company as much as they interviewing you, you want to make sure they align with what you are looking to do.

2.

Networking is essential in the job search. It is much easier to find out if those jobs you are interested in are open. Our Military Liaisons are also recruiters and they are here to try and help with navigating the hiring process here at HCA.

3.

There are different opportunities in the company that will help you leverage your network from within. There is room for growth and we also hire within.
